

Special education instructor is February employee of the month

HAVERHILL -- Andrew Cherouvis has been a special education teacher at Whittier for eight years, and was thrilled to be nominated as the February Employee of the Month by his students.

“Reading the nominations was the best part,” he said. They thanked him for being a patient teacher who helps them pass the MCAS. “Some students find the tests overwhelming,” he said, and bolstering their confidence is one of his biggest challenges.

“This is a great school to be part of,” Mr. Cherouvis said. “We have a great staff of dedicated teachers that encourage students to do their best every day.”

In his spare time, he practices yoga and Jiu-Jitsu and enjoys skiing and spending time with his wife and three children. “A lot of my family time involves my children’s sports schedules,” he said.
